Greetings! I hope this newsletter finds everyone healthy and happy. We are finishing our 12th year of the AIIP program at Oklahoma State University. Once again, we had a very good year. The summer program was successful and we graduated another AIIP doctoral student. In addition, we have another Native student on clinical internship who will graduate with her Ph.D. this year.

Last summer we hosted 7 students from a wide range of tribes from across the country. Students were placed at the Cherokee, Creek, Iowa, Osage, Pawnee, and the Sac and Fox Nations and the Tulsa Urban Indian Health Care Resource Center, Paradox Company, and Fairfax Clinic for their practicum experiences. You can read more about all of our current and former students on p. 6 and pp. 11.

As always, I would like to extend special thanks to Dr. Peter Sherwood (Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences) and Dr. Maureen Sullivan (Psychology Department Head) for their support. Administrative support of this nature contributes to our continued success. Once again, thanks to our external evaluators, Dr.’s Joe and Carol Connor, who provide us with constructive guidance on how we can improve the quality of experience for our students.

We look forward to another exciting summer program. The application pool continues to be very competitive and our new faculty are providing an array of novel experiences for the students.

Director,
American Indians Into Psychology
On June 14, 2008 Dr. Chris Fore was the key note speaker for the 2008 Summer Enrichment Program. A native Oklahoman and a member of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma, he received his Ph.D. in 1997 from Oklahoma State University in Clinical Psychology. After graduation he worked as a staff psychologist in the Behavioral Health Department at the Acoma-Canoncito-Laguna Service Unit-Indian Health Service. Later he worked as a Forensic Psychologist in Albuquerque. Recently he accepted the position of Behavioral Health Consultant for IHS-Albuquerque Area office.

The AIIP fellows had the opportunity to talk with Dr. Fore informally in the morning about a variety of topics. In the afternoon they heard a formal presentation about “Psychology in Indian Country”.

Congratulations to Tamara Newcomb (Wilburn), Ph.D.

Tamara Newcomb (Muscogee Creek) a former AIIP Summer Enrichment fellow just received her Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology at Oklahoma State University. She finished her internship and one year post-doc at Nebraska Mental Health Center - Psychology Internship Consortium, Lincoln, NE. This April she started working at the Tulsa Urban Indian Clinic as the Director of Systems of Care.
Ashleigh Coser belongs to the Muscogee (Creek), Choctaw, and Chickasaw Nations of Oklahoma. She is the daughter of Dr. Pete and JoAnna Coser of Stillwater. She is the granddaughter of the late George and Stella Coser of Okmulgee, OK and the late Sampson and Josephine Wade of Antlers, OK. Ashleigh is twenty years old and is currently a junior at Oklahoma State University majoring in Psychology.

Ashleigh is active in many extra-curricular activities involving the Native American community. She is involved with the Native American Student Association serving as Social Chair, and Ketchum House serving as President for the 2007-2008 academic year. Ashleigh has earned recognition for her service in the community and the campus. She has been involved in planning committees for events for the Native American community this year such as Cultural Night, Preserving Our Languages, Bedlam Handgame, Annual Fall Contest Pow-wow, Stickball and Stompdance Exhibition, and the Ketchum House Social.

Along with her campus involvement she participates in stompdances, pow-wow’s, and other cultural ceremonies. Ashleigh worked with the Iowa Tribe of Oklahoma working as a mentor/tutor for the Tribal Youth Program tutoring school aged children before entering Oklahoma State. She has worked as a research assistant for the Families and Schools for Health Program on campus and is currently working under Dr. Maureen Sullivan in the Child Behavior Lab. Ashleigh’s future aspirations include graduate school geared towards either Clinical or Counseling Psychology.

Native American Students Interested in Psychology

The American Indians into Psychology (AIIP) program is seeking undergraduate/master’s level American Indians students for the AIIP-Summer Enrichment Program. This is a six-week program designed to provide students with exposure to the diverse aspects of the field of psychology through research, clinical, and didactic activities.

Applicants for the AIIP must meet the following requirements: a) enrollment in a federally recognized tribe and b) Bachelor’s or Master’s degree in Psychology, Counseling or related fields. Undergraduates must be working toward a degree in Psychology or related fields with interest in graduate study.

Applications for AIIP are due March 31st of each year. If you are eligible for the AIIP and/or interested in more information, send inquiries to Dr. John Chaney, Department of Psychology, OSU, 109 N. Murray, Stillwater, OK 74078, (405) 744-6113 or e-mail: aiip@okstate.edu
Alyssa Chaney: I am a senior at Oklahoma State and a member of the Muscogee nation of Oklahoma. I am volunteering with Dr. Ivan Figueroa assisting him with various tasks in the Inclusion Center for Academic Excellence office. I’ve also proctored tutorial sessions for students at the library who were involved in the R.I.S.E Jumpstart program which is designed to promote study habits among culturally diverse students. My plans for the rest of the year are to become more involved in Native American activities on campus and to work as a research assistant in the Department of Pediatric Rheumatology at OUHSC.

Parker Shaw: Halito, I am a Choctaw senior majoring in Psychology. I plan on attending a school or counseling psychology graduate program in the near future. I’m from SE Oklahoma and went to High School at McAlester High. I have worked in numerous labs and conducted a senior thesis under Dr. David Thomas. My training ranges from affective modulation of the startle response to Native American implicit biases. I will finish my B.S. in May 2009. I have worked in the AIIP office for 3 years and am a former AIIP Summer Fellow.

Justin Worley: I am a junior at Oklahoma State University. I am a member of both the Sac and Fox and the Cherokee Nations. I have been patiently waiting to hear from the graduate schools to which I applied. I have an upcoming presentation to the psychology classes of my former high school on the subject of OSU, AIIP, and psychology in general. I worked with Blake Stevison and Dr. Abramson on a research project the spring semester.

Ashleigh Coser: I belong to the Muscogee Creek, Choctaw, and Chickasaw Nations of Oklahoma. I am currently a junior at Oklahoma State University. This year I have had the opportunity to work with Dr. Maureen Sullivan in the Child Behavior Lab as a Research Assistant. I am currently working as a student representative in the AIIP office. I am also involved in the Native American Student Association serving as Miss American Indian OSU 2008-2009, Ketchum House (Native American Affinity Housing) serving as President, Co-Committee Chair for the Native Campus Ministry- Oklahoma Indian Missionary Conference and serving on the SGA-Multicultural Affairs Committee. I plan on attending graduate school after graduation.

Graduate Fellows

Alvina Cawston: Way! My name is Alvina Cawston, I am an enrolled member of the Colville Confederated Tribes. I am of the Nez Perce and Lakes bands. I am currently in my 4th year in the clinical psychology doctoral program. This past year I have been working towards proposing my dissertation. My dissertation is an extension of my Masters thesis which involved improving clinical observation skills through art. I have also been working at Cherokee Nation Behavioral Health. This opportunity has allowed me to get a foretaste of my future endeavors.

Maria Welch: Ya’at’teeh. My name is Maria Welch and I’m a 4th year graduate student at Oklahoma State University. I’m a member of the Navajo Nation and come from Tuba City, Arizona. I am currently working on my thesis, studying racial stereotypes of Native American Mascots. I am also doing my outlying practicum at Cherokee Nation Behavioral Health center under the supervision of Drs. Misty and BJ Boyd serving the Cherokee Nation.

22nd Annual Convention of the Society of Indians Psychologists and Psychology Graduate Students

June 29 & 30, 2009

It is time to start preparing for our 22nd Annual Convention and Retreat of American Indian Psychologists and Psychology Graduate Students. We hope that each of you will make time to be a part of this year’s conference. Registration and presentation submission forms are due by April 21, 2009. These forms are presently available at http://www.aiansip.org. In addition, the conference offers stellar presentations (practice and research oriented) given every year by our dedicated colleagues. We also look forward to a delightful respite with friends and family at the retreat center. Participation in the 2-day retreat before the conference is filled with: horseback riding, the best raspberry milkshakes in the world, Bear Lake wonders such as caves, hot springs, and just smoothing out by the water’s edge, evening circles, children’s chatter, home-cooked dinners, sweat lodge and prayer. Please contact us at aisp@cc.usu.edu or at 435-797-1466 if you have any questions.
